

LECTION OF NEW YORK SOCIALISTS SUSTAINED

Assembly Judiciary Committee Upholds Action of Legislature in Ousting Alleged Radicals.

(By Associated Press.)

ALBANY, N. Y., March 30.—Charges of unfitness against the five Socialist members of the New York State Assembly Judiciary Committee, who voted to oust alleged radicals from the Assembly, were today sustained by a majority of the Assembly.

The Judiciary Committee, which had been appointed by the Assembly to investigate the charges, today reported to the Assembly that it had found the five Socialists guilty of unfitness to hold office.

The five Socialists are: Louis Waldman, Arthur J. Channing, Charles Solomon, Samuel A. DeWitt and Samuel Orr.

The Judiciary Committee, which had been appointed by the Assembly to investigate the charges, today reported to the Assembly that it had found the five Socialists guilty of unfitness to hold office.

The five Socialists are: Louis Waldman, Arthur J. Channing, Charles Solomon, Samuel A. DeWitt and Samuel Orr.

The Judiciary Committee, which had been appointed by the Assembly to investigate the charges, today reported to the Assembly that it had found the five Socialists guilty of unfitness to hold office.

The five Socialists are: Louis Waldman, Arthur J. Channing, Charles Solomon, Samuel A. DeWitt and Samuel Orr.

The Judiciary Committee, which had been appointed by the Assembly to investigate the charges, today reported to the Assembly that it had found the five Socialists guilty of unfitness to hold office.

The five Socialists are: Louis Waldman, Arthur J. Channing, Charles Solomon, Samuel A. DeWitt and Samuel Orr.

The Judiciary Committee, which had been appointed by the Assembly to investigate the charges, today reported to the Assembly that it had found the five Socialists guilty of unfitness to hold office.

The five Socialists are: Louis Waldman, Arthur J. Channing, Charles Solomon, Samuel A. DeWitt and Samuel Orr.

The Judiciary Committee, which had been appointed by the Assembly to investigate the charges, today reported to the Assembly that it had found the five Socialists guilty of unfitness to hold office.

The five Socialists are: Louis Waldman, Arthur J. Channing, Charles Solomon, Samuel A. DeWitt and Samuel Orr.

The Judiciary Committee, which had been appointed by the Assembly to investigate the charges, today reported to the Assembly that it had found the five Socialists guilty of unfitness to hold office.

The five Socialists are: Louis Waldman, Arthur J. Channing, Charles Solomon, Samuel A. DeWitt and Samuel Orr.

The Judiciary Committee, which had been appointed by the Assembly to investigate the charges, today reported to the Assembly that it had found the five Socialists guilty of unfitness to hold office.

The five Socialists are: Louis Waldman, Arthur J. Channing, Charles Solomon, Samuel A. DeWitt and Samuel Orr.

The Judiciary Committee, which had been appointed by the Assembly to investigate the charges, today reported to the Assembly that it had found the five Socialists guilty of unfitness to hold office.

The five Socialists are: Louis Waldman, Arthur J. Channing, Charles Solomon, Samuel A. DeWitt and Samuel Orr.

The Judiciary Committee, which had been appointed by the Assembly to investigate the charges, today reported to the Assembly that it had found the five Socialists guilty of unfitness to hold office.

The five Socialists are: Louis Waldman, Arthur J. Channing, Charles Solomon, Samuel A. DeWitt and Samuel Orr.

The Judiciary Committee, which had been appointed by the Assembly to investigate the charges, today reported to the Assembly that it had found the five Socialists guilty of unfitness to hold office.

The five Socialists are: Louis Waldman, Arthur J. Channing, Charles Solomon, Samuel A. DeWitt and Samuel Orr.

The Judiciary Committee, which had been appointed by the Assembly to investigate the charges, today reported to the Assembly that it had found the five Socialists guilty of unfitness to hold office.

The five Socialists are: Louis Waldman, Arthur J. Channing, Charles Solomon, Samuel A. DeWitt and Samuel Orr.

EXPERT INSTRUCTIONS ON SELECTION OF SEED

Important Item in Buying Garden Kind Is to Determine Ancestry and Also to Purchase From Reliable Well-Known Dealers.

What does a seed contain? A seed contains an embryo plant and sufficient food to nourish the plant until it has grown enough roots and leaves to nourish itself. The kind of plant the seed will grow into depends upon its parentage. Best seeds look alike, yet one kind will grow into a bush that is ready to harvest in forty days, and the other kind will not be ready to harvest for 120 days. This difference is due to the selection of the seed parent.

Factors to consider in purchasing seeds—(1) Freshness. Seeds purchased in bulk are always more likely to be fresh than those in small packages. (2) Variety. The most desirable varieties of seed are purchased from reliable seed farms. Too much emphasis can not be placed upon the importance of purchasing seeds from reliable seed farms that make a specialty of selecting and planting and furnishing seeds of high quality.

Seed growing—Seed growing has developed into a special class of farming. Seed farms are located where the soil and climate are especially favorable for the growth of the particular vegetable to be grown. For instance, cabbage grows well in a cool climate, and therefore these seeds are best grown in the North. Many cabbage seed farms are located in Connecticut and Long Island. Watermelons, on the other hand, are a warm weather crop, so these seeds are best obtained from seed farms located in Georgia, Florida and the West Indies.

Reasons for poor seeds—Seeds may be too old to germinate. Late seeds can be kept for four years and still germinate, while older seeds can not be kept more than one year. The seed may have been grown under unfavorable conditions. The seed may not have been properly stored. Insects may have been planted with the seed. For example, pea seed containing weevils or bean seed with anthracnose.

are increase per man of three, and thirty-five pounds in weight, and twenty-three hundred inches, according to these figures. The average weight of men drafted into the army was 141.4 pounds when drafted and 144.8 pounds when discharged. At the time of induction into the army the average height was 67.4 inches and upon discharge, 67.72 inches.

Will Present Paintings to Confederate Museum

Mrs. James H. Worth Makes Valuable Contribution to the Museum of the Confederate States.

Mrs. James H. Worth will present to the Confederate Museum this morning at 10 o'clock the oil painting depicting the scenes and incidents in the activities of Mosby's men in the Civil War, which were made for the late Captain W. Ben Palmer, who served under Mosby.

Receipt of $5 toward The Times-Dispatch Relief Fund for Case No. 20.

James Walter Titus, aged 62, prominent in the city, died Saturday morning at his home, the residence of his son-in-law, Howard H. Wright, North Boulevard, Baltimore, Md., after a short illness of pneumonia, following influenza.

Recruits for Civil War Taller Than Men in 1917

Fighters in World Struggle, However, Gain Height and Weight in War.

A decrease of one-tenth of an inch in height was lost by the American men during the intervening period of the Civil War and the world war, according to figures compiled by the local recruiting office located in Richmond. The average height of the Civil War soldier was sixty-seven and six-tenths inches and in the world war sixty-seven and five-tenths inches. These figures were compared with the measurements of 1,004,841 recruits for the Civil War with the same number of recruits in the last war.

Service in the army gave an average increase per man of three, and thirty-five pounds in weight, and twenty-three hundred inches, according to these figures. The average weight of men drafted into the army was 141.4 pounds when drafted and 144.8 pounds when discharged. At the time of induction into the army the average height was 67.4 inches and upon discharge, 67.72 inches.

Will that Boy of Yours Make Good?

That boy of yours has great possibilities. The chief factor in his success is good health. The chief factor in good health is cleanliness inside.

Keep his mind keen and his physical force ever increasing through the proper elimination of waste matter and intestinal poisons from his system.

By an entirely new principle Nujol will keep the poisonous waste moving out of the body. Every other form of treatment either irritates or forces the system. Nujol works on the waste matter instead of on the system.

Nujol prevents constipation by keeping the food waste soft, thus helping Nature establish easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world.

It is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take—try it.

Nujol is sold by all druggists in sealed bottles only bearing Nujol trade-mark. Write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), 50 Broadway, N. Y., for Booklet, "Thirty Feet of Danger."

A New Method of Treating an Old Complaint

Jewelry Since 1850.

Your Easter Message—OF LOVE AND FRIENDSHIP.

JEWELS and JEWELRY. J. F. Kohler & Sons, Inc. 200 East Broad.

SENATORS BLOCK LATEST PEACE PACT MOVEMENT

Objections Raised by Lenroot of Michigan Upsets Introduction of Measure in House.

(By Universal Service.) WASHINGTON, March 30.—Objections raised by Senator Lenroot of Michigan and other Senators against the proposed form of the House resolution to declare peace with Germany upset the plans of the House leaders to have the measure introduced today.

These objections were offered in the form of amendments designed to safeguard more adequately the rights and benefits accruing to the United States under the terms of the armistice and the treaty of Versailles. Acting on the suggestions of the Senators, the section of the resolution dealing with the rights of this country under the terms of peace was revised. The revision was approved at a conference of Chairman Porter and the ranking Republican members of the Foreign Affairs Committee, with Speaker Gillett and the steering committee late today, and the revised draft of the resolution agreed upon will be submitted to all the Republican members of the House tomorrow.

If the majority members of the committee approve the new form of the resolution it will be introduced tomorrow and considered and reported out by the full committee Thursday. A special rule for its consideration Friday then will be reported out by the rules committee, and the resolution will be heard before adjournment Friday night.

The section of the resolution as revised to conform with the suggestions of the Senators provides: 1.—That Germany must ratify the armistice and accept a status of peace within ninety days.

2.—That Germany must waive and renounce all her claims for reparation and compensation of a status of peace, all rights and claims to which she would be entitled under the terms of the armistice and the treaty of Versailles.

3.—In the event that Germany fails to give the United States such assurances, the President, in his judgment, would be authorized to declare war on Germany.

4.—In other words, the resolution will force Germany to accept a non-commercial intercourse with Germany.

5.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

Inquiries on the Democratic side to give the United States such assurances, the President, in his judgment, would be authorized to declare war on Germany.

6.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

7.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

8.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

9.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

10.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

11.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

12.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

13.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

14.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

15.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

16.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

17.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

18.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

19.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

20.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

21.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

22.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

Wants Direct Wire to Weather Bureau

Carolina Farmer Not the Least Backward in Request for Service.

(By Universal Service.) WASHINGTON, March 30.—William Spivner, a South Carolina farmer, today called on the Weather Bureau to furnish him with up-to-the minute data so that Mrs. Spivner might be able to set a hen with the best results.

Mr. Spivner's letter read as follows: "Dear Sir:—I wish you would let me know what kind of weather we are going to have for the next three or four weeks as my wife has a hen who wants to sit and she wants to know whether to sit her or not. Also would like to get the average for this period for the last fifty or sixty years if not too much trouble. And will you lend me a thermometer and a barometer so I can shut the chicken house door if the barometer looks threatening. And if convenient I would like you to telegraph me the weather forecast every morning until the hen comes off with the chickens and for a while after as chickens need lots of care when just hatched out."

Yrs truly, William Spivner.

"P. S.: Please have the agriculture dept send me some books on chickens." Send the thermometer and barometer by partial post.

(Signed) W. S.

ed to give the United States such assurances, the President, in his judgment, would be authorized to declare war on Germany.

6.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

7.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

8.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

9.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

10.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

11.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

12.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

13.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

14.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

15.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

16.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

17.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

18.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

19.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

20.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

21.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

22.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

23.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

24.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

25.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

26.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

27.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

28.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

LABOR CANDIDATES WIN IN LARGER IOWA CITIES

Party, However, Met with Slight Opposition from Business Interests During Campaign.

DES MOINES, Ia., March 30.—Returns compiled today from municipal elections throughout the state yesterday, show that labor party candidates were, for the most part, successful in the larger towns. In Sioux City the labor party candidates were successful in the business element of the city. In Waterloo all but two union labor candidates were elected by a comfortable majority.

Cedar Rapids, under commission form of government, re-elected the present Mayor. In Burlington the labor candidate for Mayor was successful. At Clinton labor party candidates won in all but two instances.

Stay of Sentence Granted.

NEW YORK, March 30.—A stay of sentence today was granted to Harry Winitsky, executive secretary of the Communist party here, who was sentenced yesterday to from five to ten years in state prison for criminal anarchy. An order directing the sheriff of New York county to show cause why Winitsky should not be given certificate of reasonable doubt is returnable in the Supreme Court tomorrow.

Yrs truly, William Spivner.

"P. S.: Please have the agriculture dept send me some books on chickens." Send the thermometer and barometer by partial post.

(Signed) W. S.

ed to give the United States such assurances, the President, in his judgment, would be authorized to declare war on Germany.

6.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

7.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

8.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

9.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

10.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

11.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

12.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

13.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

14.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

15.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

16.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

17.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

18.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

19.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

20.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

21.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

22.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

23.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

24.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

25.—The President is empowered to President to prohibit trade relations with Germany unless she acquiesces in the terms of the peace resolution. Should the President exercise this power, it is pointed out, he would be compelled to decline to receive an ambassador from Germany or resume diplomatic relations in any way.

The COHEN CO. SERVICE FIRST—SATISFACTION ALWAYS

Beginning Tomorrow in Our ART DEPARTMENT Now Located on 3rd Floor

WE ARE pleased to announce that our Art Department has secured the services of an expert instructor in Embroidering, Crocheting and Lamp Shade Making, and will hold classes each Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Our patrons are cordially invited to attend these classes, which are without charge.

Schedule of Classes

Every Tuesday and Thursday at 10 A. M. to 4 P. M. for Women and Misses.

Saturday Morning For the Children

Let the children join these special classes and learn this fascinating needle work. Classes every Saturday morning from 10 to 12 o'clock.

Comfort Your Skin With Cuticura Soap and Fragrant Talcum